Stewardship Sunday

"Each of you should use whatever gift you have received to serve others, as faithful stewards of God's grace in its various forms. If anyone speaks, they should do so as one who speaks the very words of God. If anyone serves, they should do so with the strength God provides, so that in all things God provides through Jesus Christ. To him be the glory and the power for ever and ever. Amen."

1 Peter 4:10-11

"Blessed to be a Blessing Sunday" is coming up on October 15, 2023. We will have one combined worship service at 9:30am, with a celebration brunch to follow, in the Social Hall.

This year's Stewardship view will be on using our gifts and our communication with others. While we know it is the time of year to start to prepare for next year's budget and expenses, I also want to share that it is important to realize that we all have been given specific talents and gifts to be shared with one another, for God's glory.

Some have the gift of speaking/communicating with one another with love and compassion. Knowing what to say to someone in need or with encouraging words, to lift someone up. Some have the gift of sharing, whether it's extra items we may have or something we just want to share and give to someone. Others may share a note, an email or a prayer. Some share their talents through music or crafts. Either way, we have been given faithful hearts from God above who knows we can share these things with loved ones, or even strangers.

Sunday, October 15, 2023 please plan to share our day in church, as we will also be having a brunch to thank the congregation for all of their support and efforts.

You will be seeing a letter come out as well as the Estimate of giving cards for your 2024 pledge and a reservation form for the lunch. Please be sure to help us by filling the pledge cards & reservation forms out and returning them to the church or you can call or email the church office with your pledge and/or reservation. Thank you.

Stewardship, Tammy Epprecht

It is pretty easy to notice the days are getting shorter. It is darker when I arise, and much darker before I retire. We are well into the fall season.

Already some of the vegetables have run their course, and it won't be long before the leaves begin to turn, dry, and fall. For many it is a difficult season as it brings anxiety about dying. This is an anxiety that drains much of the joy out of life and can often leave one sad and depressed.

God is well aware of these feelings. For God established dying as an intricate part of the created order. Remember from Genesis 3:22 "And the Lord God said, 'This man has now become like one of us, knowing good from evil. He must not be allowed to reach out his hand and take also from the tree of life and eat, and live forever.'" Because of Adam's disobedience God banished him from paradise and declared human life will be hard. We will endure heartbreak, hardships, obstacles, and death. This is just how it is.

AND God declared more – there will be resurrection. God sent Jesus to live among us, to take all humanity could throw at him, to suffer, to die, AND to be raised – RESURRECTED so we could see and know death is not the end. The death we so fear, be it of body, mind, dream, job, family, what ever, is not permanent. God has promised us resurrection, new life. I know that in the midst of dying this can be difficult to claim. But that does not make God's promise any less so.

We have been claimed by God. We are the children of God. We have been promised – MORE. Resurrection is coming. I just can't tell you when. So, we wait with thanksgiving, with this incredible promise God has given us to reduce our anxiety on the journey.

From the Transition Team -

THANK YOU! Your responses to our first survey are much appreciated. The Transition Team will now begin to review, categorize, and discuss all you have shared with us. This process usually begins to identify some basic areas of agreement about how we understand ourselves.

To further refine our understanding the Transition Team...

- will have some of its members available in the Welcome Center after worship to hear what you chose to share and to answer any questions you may have
- is consulting with every group (AA, Scouts, Salvation Army, Magic Memories, etc.) who utilizes our facilities
- is interviewing some long-term deeply engaged members for their wise reflections
- is meeting with Council to hear their thoughts as our chosen leaders
- will place before you a second survey beginning October 1 to help us prioritize the areas of ministry in which we most want the next pastor engaged
- is hosting a Round Table Conversation on Sunday, October 29 between services and a Virtual Round Table Zoom that afternoon

Again, thanks for sharing! Please continue to speak with any member of the Transition Team as we continue this wonderful process of self-understanding.

Transition Team Members:

Karen Brown, Greg Eynon, John Fraunfelter, Kate Petel & Heather Tyrrell
